CATTLE TRESPASSING UPON FERN'S LAND

Mayor Fern is having some trouble about cattle on his Kona estate. Some months ago he subleased, at $135 a year rental, from T. C. White for theunexpired term of seventeen years twenty-one acres of the lands held by White under lease from the Bishop'tstale. He sent his check for a year's rent to White and had his sub-lease

By fast mail from Kona Mayor Fern was informed that White's cattle had been turned upon the land and sides scaring the timid coffee pickers from their work. He is sending instructions to his brother-in-law by the outgoing mail to post a notice against trespassing on the land, also to request White to keep his cattle off, and, if the warnings be not heeded, to have all trespassing cattle impounded.

Mayor Fern expects a crop of 150 pounds of coffee off the land this season. The place is conveniently located, with the mauka and makai govern. ment roads bounding it respectively on two sides.
